Woman sues Gym for allowing Men in her Shower

"A woman suing her gym chain for its 'no judgement' policy as it applies to transgender members is appealing her case to the Michigan Supreme Court," reports Yahoo.

"Yvette Cormier first made headlines in 2015 after losing her membership to Planet Fitness after she complained about a trans woman using the women's locker room at her local Midland, Michigan gym.

"During the incident, Corimer went to the front desk to complain that 'someone who looked like a man' had entered the women's locker room. After she was informed of the company's "no judgement" policy when it comes to self-determination of gender identity? by both the front desk and corporate headquarters, she reportedly continued to return to the gym to warn other gym members that Planet Fitness 'let men in the women's locker room.'

"Her membership was revoked later that week. Cormier filed suit against Planet Fitness, claiming that 'canceling membership without making her fully aware of its policies is a breach of contract.'

"She also alleged that Planet Fitness violated the Elliott-Larsen Civil Rights Act by banning her from the gym, which prohibits discrimination in Michigan against religion, race, color, national origin, age, sex, height, weight, familial status, or marital status in employment, housing, education and access to public accommodations.

"Cormier told CNN in 2015, 'I didn't go out to specifically bash a transgender person that day. I was taken aback by the situation. This is about me and how I felt unsafe. I should feel safe in there."

[Dr. Chaps' comment: Managers of Planet Fitness should be ashamed of making a woman feel unsafe by allowing men into the woman's locker. They endanger the safety of all women, and their privacy is gone. I would cancel PF membership if you have one.]

Cop punished for refusing to call 'transgender' man a woman

"Transgender insanity is now leading to persecution of law enforcement officers," reports LifeSiteNews.

"Fort Lauderdale cop James Brinton is being disciplined and the entire city police force is being made to undergo transgender sensitivity 'training' because ... Brinton actually listed a man as 'male.'

"The man in question, 48-year-old real estate agent Shelby Kendall, is indeed male, but in 2014 he filed to have his driver's license changed to read 'female.'

"Foolishly, the state of Florida did just that. With the touch of a delete button, Kendall was given a bureaucratic sex change and officially declared by the government a 'woman.'"

"In January, Officer Brinton caught Kendall drag racing on a public highway. Brinton pulled him over and began to give him a ticket for reckless driving.

"This is where the plot thickens. Rather than list his biological sex, the police computer that filled in Kendall's driver's license information on the ticket listed him as female. Brinton thought it was a mistake and corrected it...

"Fast forward just four days after the traffic stop. Kendall went to the police department's internal affairs and filed charges against Brinton for 'mis-gendering' him on the ticket.

"Mis-gendering," or actually, "Correct gendering," is now a crime.

"Think about that. Telling the truth to a man who desperately fantasizes that he is a woman is a crime in Fort Lauderdale."

[Dr. Chaps' comment: They are coming after us. If they can force a policeman to call a man a woman, they will not stop until every Christian bows his knee to their agenda. We must resist, and refuse to join them in their lies.]

Friends, their version of tolerance now requires bankrupting Christian employers, or any public restaurant or retail store that refuses men full access to women's bathrooms. We must take action to stop ENDA from becoming law.
